New $400 Siren Bought From Firm at Ross

Purchase of an additional air raid warning siren was approved Wednesday for this city when City Manager C. L. Dimmitt signed a $400 purchase order on the Cam Siren Manufacturing Co. of Ross. The device, electrically driven, is to be installed on the roof of the John Gill School and will be controlled from the Middlefield Rd. firehouse, according to Fire Chief Mark E. Ryan.

The new siren will give the city warning devices powered by gasoline engine, steam and electricity, Ryan stated. He hinted it may be necessary to buy still more sirens, and said the future policy would be dispersion of smaller devices rather than placing reliance upon a single, large unit.

About 10 million trees are tapped for maple sugar in the United States every year.

REDWOOD CITY DRUGGISTS

Announce That They WILL CLOSE

AT 8:00 P.M.
Effective Thursday, January 15

Your local druggists feel that they can best co-operate with the National War Emergency by shortening their business day and closing at 8:00 o'clock in the evening.

This earlier closing hour will still allow customers ample shopping time to purchase their drug needs.

Drug store employees will be safeguarded against the imminent possibilities of blackouts and will be able to reach their homes at an early hour.

You can be assured that the same efficient personal consideration that your local druggists have always shown in preparing your prescriptions will be maintained during this new closing period. There will be no reduction in personnel under the new hours, so prompt service in all departments will be unchanged.

Your local druggists sincerely hope that no inconvenience is caused by this new regulation, and that their customers will remember to shop a few hours earlier in the evening. We urgently request that customers place their evening phone orders sufficiently early so that deliveries may be completed by 8:00 o'clock.

The Following Redwood City Drug Firms
Are Co-operating in the New Closing Hours:

LOCK DRUG CO.
MUSSO DRUG CO.
REDWOOD PHARMACY

RYAN'S DRUG STORE

PLUMBING AND NATIONAL DEFENSE

Plumbing has been designated by O.P.M. as one trade which is essential to national emergency.

Now as in the past the home is the bulwark of the nation. It must be protected and safeguarded. Plumb-ing is too important to health protection and means too much to the welfare of the whole family to be entrusted to anybody but the experienced hands of a master plumber. In these days of wet and cold weather hot water will prove a comfort and an asset to health. We have a reasonably complete line of hot water heaters of all makes. We specialize in Crane Hot Water Heaters. Don't put off the pleasure of enjoying all the hot water you want when you need it.

CHRISTMAS WE LOST A whole case of handkerchiefs. Now these dainty

$2.59—and the dollar purses have been reduced to ..... 79¢

MENLO PARK NEWS

BY D. E. O'KEEFE

MENLO PARK—There was a large attendance at the regular meeting of the city council Monday evening. A large delegation was present from Stanford Park represented by Attorney Runwell of Palo Alto. The matter of a left turn on streets at the highway was continued. Mr. Harding, representing the State Highway Commission, said that owing to the war and scarcity of material and men, work of widening the highway through Menlo Park would not be undertaken for at least six months.

Not for many years have there been so many wild pigeons seen in this vicinity. The large acorn crop is the lure that brought the birds from their mountain retreat.

That long-delayed shakeup in the police department may be expected shortly.

For the first time in 30 years there has been no flow of water in San Francisco Creek. This is not due entirely to the short rainfall but to the catchment made at the headwaters by Stanford University and the Spring Valley Co. (now San Francisco Water Co.).

This week the President appointed Major General Brett a lieutenant general and the Senate immediately confirmed the appointment. The general is a son-in-law of Mrs. C. A. Devol of Menlo Park, whose late husband was a major general in the regular army. This is the highest rank in the service except that of general and only four men ever held that position, Washington, Grant, Sheridan and Sherman.

Owing to the invasion of ants in this vicinity lately, it is more than likely the Pulgas abatement trustees will assume the work of destroying the pest. A woman inspector will be employed to enter homes and fight the troublesome insect.

Mrs. Frank Derry, after a week's visit to friends in San Francisco, has returned to her home in Menlo Park. Mrs. Derry will entertain a number of friends here next week. Mrs. Derry is one of Menlo's social leaders.

Because of the high cost of material and labor, work on the two new store buildings to be erected in Menlo Park has been postponed indefinitely.

The marriage of a local couple will take place here in two weeks. Consult your Times-Gazette next week for particulars.

How To Put Out Incendiaries Told

To lessen the danger of attic fires caused by incendiary bombs, attics should be cleaned of all inflammable material, in opinion of Mrs. W. P. Fuller Jr. of San Mateo, who has been giving talks over the Peninsula on how to save lives and homes during air raids. She spoke Saturday night at a meeting held by Southeast San Mateo County Defense Council in Menlo Park School. Mrs. Fuller also advised white-washing all woodwork inside the attic to increase its resistance to fire. She warned persons whose attics have no entrances to cut entrances into them to permit persons to get into the attics to put out fires which may start there.

Mrs. Fuller warned against the use of dangerous methods to put out incendiary bombs. Patented fire extinguishers, wet sand, or a stream of water may cause the bombs to explode.

Two buckets of fine, dry sand, a long-handled shovel and hoe, heavy gloves, dark glasses to protect the eyes from the glare, and a table-top to shield the body are items of bomb protection equipment every household should have, she said. A long hose which can be attached to faucets inside the house is another essential.

To extinguish a magnesium thermite bomb, she said, first cover it lightly with sand. Then with a hoe and a shovel containing some sand pick up the bomb and place it in a bucket about half full of sand. Then cover the bomb with sand. With the shovel carry the bucket outdoors away from buildings and inflammable material.

If the bomb is burning and has started fires that prevent close approach to it, the householder should play a fine spray of water from the hose over the fires and the bomb, she said. Using the table-top as a screen, he should lie on the floor to escape asphyxiation from the smoke and fumes from the bomb.

Magnesium type incendiary bombs may also be extinguished by dropping bags of sand weighing about 30 pounds on them, Thomas P. Cuff, chief of the Menlo fire district, told the Menlo Park audience.

Predicting that there will soon be women air-raid wardens, Mrs. Fuller urged women to train for

Systematic Cleaning

Dust and dirt working into the surface of floor covering injure the wool fibres unless removed by regular, systematic cleaning. Wool pile fabrics may look clean when they are not, because the dirt works its way to the bottom of the pile. This embedded dirt does the most harm. Vacuum cleaning will remove it. The surface may be kept clean by sweeping with a soft-bristled broom or a carpet sweeper.

Adds to Life of Rug

The vacuum should be used on the entire surface at least weekly, and daily on most frequently traveled areas. After cleaning the surface should be brushed gently to leave all the pile lying in the same direction.

Periodically, wool pile floor coverings should be sent to a reputable commercial rug cleaner, where professional care can be given.

Effects of Defense

Much Building Is Forecast for New Year

"The vast war effort in which the United States is engaged will drastically change construction activity in 1942, but it by no means will cause a blackout of this industry," American Builder declares in its comprehensive annual survey and forecast. A 12 billion dollar construction program for the new year is in prospect, according to this authority.

"SPAB's announcement of a 150 billion dollar arms expenditure—a 'victory budget,' including the 70 billion dollars already appropriated or authorized for military and lease-lend purposes—can mean only one thing—a vast increase in the nation's industrial plant," American Builder states.

"Thus in 1942 the building industry will be called upon to produce a huge volume of industrial construction, and the vast number of related structures, such as service buildings, garages, warehouses, shops and minor commercial building.

DEFENSE HOUSING

"This vast expansion in industrial production, plus extra shifts, means additional population moving to already crowded industrial and defense areas and a consequent further increase in the need for housing. To provide this needed housing in defense areas will tax the capacity of both private and public builders.

"Piled upon all of this will undoubtedly come a vast cantonment program for a hugely expanded army. New army camps in practically every state are expected.

"Farm construction at increased volume will undoubtedly accompany the expansion in farm production and income.

MODERNIZATION PLANS

"Modernization, maintenance and 'repairs for defense' will be required at high levels.

"Defense housing and the defense areas will get first call on all critical metals and materials.

"In nondefense areas the ingenuity and resourcefulness of building men will be called into play to devise ways of carrying on necessary construction with a minimum use of critical items.

REALISTIC ESTIMATE

"Despite war uncertainties, some realistic estimates of the probable course of construction are possible. It should be pointed out that even at the height of the last war, at least several hundred thousand houses were built, and that a considerable volume of residential construction, as well as repairs and maintenance must be carried on in all parts of the country in order to maintain the health, welfare and safety of the general public.

"Residential building was approaching near boom proportions in the latter part of 1941. The reliable and well proven estimates of Herman B. Byer, chief of the Construction Division of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, indicate that 615,000 housing units, other than on farms, were provided as a whole in 1941. Of these, approximately 96,000 were financed with public funds. The public housing program fell short of expectations, while private builders, who produced 84.4 per cent, or 519,000 units, did the best job of providing low cost homes where most needed that has ever been done in this country.

PRIORITY APPROVED

"Careful estimates show that 63 per cent of the 519,000 homes privately built in 1941 were erected in defense areas that have been approved for priority assistance. A population of 61,500,000 is represented by the defense areas already approved,

Indoor Gardening

Bulbs Can Be Flowered In Pots by Amateurs

The amateur gardener who is able to bring bulbs to flower in pots of earth has a far greater selection of material, and finer flowers are grown this way than in fiber or pebbles and water. All the forcing varieties of tulips, narcissi and the minor bulbs which are used by florists to produce pot plants may be forced by the amateur who has a sun parlor and is willing to be patient and careful.

In this operation, as with others, you do not grow flowers, you merely permit them to grow. Flowers are as eager to live as are animals; we have only to place them in an environment which makes it possible for them to thrive. The procedure with bulbs is well standardized.

PLANT THEM FIRST

The first step is to plant them in pots or the shallow pots called "pans." The soil should be what florists call good potting soil and is best purchased from a florist, since very little is needed. Place the bulb so that its point is half an inch below the surface.

Now it is necessary to allow the bulb to make roots; and for this purpose the pot must be placed in a dark and cool place, where it cannot freeze or dry out too much. A cold frame, where it can be covered with leaves, or a pit protected by a curb from surface drainage, where several pots may be stored, covered with leaves, ashes or sand, will do.

SOAK FLOWER POT

When placed in this storage the pot should be thoroughly soaked, and no further watering should be necessary. If stored in an indoor cellar or closet the soil should be prevented from drying out excessively. Root action will follow and when top growth begins the pot may be brought indoors or kept in the storage place and so retarded until wanted.

After being brought indoors the pot must be given all the light possible and kept in a temperature which averages 60 degrees until stems, leaves and flower buds are formed. This means keeping them out of overheated rooms, preferably on a sunporch, where windows may be opened for ventilation and coolness. Night temperatures should be lower than day. After buds are formed a temperature of 70 degrees will bring out the flowers, and if haste is needed a higher temperature will produce it.

Too high temperature will produce spindly growth and may prevent flowering. Air is as important as light. Success in forcing bulbs into flower in soil depends entirely on the points here enumerated and unless one is willing to pay strict attention to details it is better not to undertake it. But it can be seen from the discussion that no skill is required; some knowledge of plants, plus patience and care, is all that is needed, and the reward is rich. To watch the flowers develop will teach many lessons which may be of value in the garden next year.

It takes much longer to produce flowers by this method than with the quick-growing lilies of the valley and paper-white narcissi. From six and eight weeks are needed for the formation of roots and the subsequent growth is slower, but the size of the flowers is much greater and the variety of choice wider.

To keep the shining, protective finish of porcelain enameled teakettles in good condition, boil bicarbonate of soda solution in them periodically to remove the scale that sometimes forms in hard-water areas.

at 2 1/2 billion dollars.

"The most serious dislocation in the building industry expected next year is in the commercial, educational and miscellaneous nonresidential structures. Sharp reductions in the volume of office and loft buildings, banks, stores and other nonresidential construction seem unavoidable.

"However, there are some classes of non-residential construction, namely, garages, warehouses, service stations, hangars and other service-type structures that may not be so seriously affected, since they will be required as a natural accompaniment to military and industrial defense work.

"We have seen that, barring all-out prohibition of nondefense work, residential construction totaling 500,000 units may be expected in 1942. The dollar volume represented by these homes would be approximately $2,500,000,000. Modernization, maintenance and repairs will add another 2.4 billion dollars. Farm construction (including farm homes and maintenance), which in 1941 is estimated to have totaled $525,000,000, will account for $600,000,000.

Save Time, Space

Plan Storage In Kitchen For Efficiency

A well-organized plan for storing bright new porcelain enameled kitchen utensils will save time when meals must be prepared in a hurry. Moreover, it lessens the danger of banging and collision of pots and pans which sometimes accompanies helter-skelter storing. Porcelain enameled ware will stay smooth and new-looking just about as long as it is used.

Modern kitchens, efficiently organized, usually have four work centers. Store the enameled utensils used at each of these work centers in cupboards or drawers within easy reach of each of these centers.

Try to keep at the front of the shelves the utensils used most often. Covers and shallow utensils take much less space if stored vertically.

The four primary kitchen work centers are:

Cooking Center—This is the area around the kitchen range. Here storage space should be provided for porcelain enameled roasting pans, sauce pans, skillets and steamers.

Preparation Center—This is the refrigerator area. Here, provide storage space for all enameled utensils used in food preparation.

Serving Center—Most convenient if located near both the cooking center and the dining room door. Here, store all serving utensils.

Clean-up Center—Sink area. Here store porcelain enameled dishpan, colander, sink strainer and related utensils.

Because of the variety of attractive colors and color-contracts in which porcelain enameled ware is offered today, kitchens sometimes can be made more attractive and distinctive by hanging porcelain enameled pots and pans on hooks, in plain view. They add a cheerful note and are more easily accessible.

USES FOR DISHPANS

If your dishpan is finished in porcelain enamel, you'll find it handy for use in laundry work, during the canning season or in general house-cleaning. The porcelain enameled finish is smooth and non-porous. It cannot absorb germs or odors. Just wash it with mild soap or cleanser and rinse with hot water for thorough, positive cleanliness.

New Overhead Lighting Fixtures Perform Double Duty in Dining Room

Tall center ornaments on table-setting blend well with this type of dining room fixture. Glass bowl mounted close to ceiling emits adequate light throughout room. The pewter-and-gold finish of the metal holder harmonizes with room furnishings.

By Alice Lee

THE age-old disagreement between father and mother on light for the dining room seems at last to be reaching a happy solution.

In the past, father has held out for "lots of light," while his better half insisted upon dim, soft illumination, with candles assuming the brunt of the decorative lighting burden on festive occasions.

Soft light in abundance is provided by the dining room overhead lighting fixtures now appearing on the market. These new fixtures are as decorative as they are efficient. Available in a wide variety of all-metal, and metal-and-glass combinations, they harmonize beautifully with your furnishings, at the same time, they furnish the adequate illumination so necessary for reading, study, or table games.

In selecting your new dining room lighting fixture, remember that the lamp bulbs should be concealed, shaded. Glare is annoying, and harmful to the eyes, as well. And make sure that the shade is sufficiently dense to conceal the contour or bright spot of the lighted bulb. If a fixture with branching candle arms is preferred, or a fixture with upturned shades of glass or plastic material enclosing the lamp bulbs, it should be fitted with shades to prevent glare.

Having satisfied yourself on the fixture's general design and lighting qualities, make certain that the color and character of its finish are in keeping with that of your dining room. Then you'll combine efficiency with decorative harmony—a combination that will keep you and your family thoroughly light-happy at all times.

Katharine Cornell To Be in S.F. Soon

With "Rose Burke," a new play written especially for her by Henri Bernstein, Katharine Cornell rounds out a dozen productions as America's only actress-manager. Most of the twelve have been successes; some of them have been smash hits. All of them have been interesting and important.

"Rose Burke" is Bernstein's first script in a language other than his own. The distinguished French playwright has been in this country since the summer of 1940.

Miss Cornell enacts the title role, a celebrated sculptor in contemporary New York. Opposite her is Philip Merivale in the part of James Foreman, a man of affairs entrusted with a weighty government mission.

The other principals are Doris Dudley as Barbara, Duchess of Rockwell; Jean-Pierre Aumont as Marcel Dutry; and Clarence Derwent as Maximilian Elgart.

Guthrie McClintic, who has staged all Miss Cornell's plays beginning with "The Green Hat" in which she became a star, has again directed his wife in "Rose Burke." Donald Oenslager designed the setting. Miss Cornell's costumes are the creation of Mainbocher.

Union Members Asked To Aid Blood Bank

Approximately 2500 return-address cards have been sent to labor union members asking them to pledge support to the proposed "Blood Bank" of San Mateo County, it was reported at the Organized Labor Co-ordinating Committee for Civilian Defense meeting.

As soon as the return cards have been checked and the prospective donors listed, the records will be turned over to the county and to the medical society for action to secure county appropriation for establishing the Blood Bank at Community Hospital, it was announced.

The co-ordinating committee devoted almost its entire meeting to a discussion of labor's role under the civilian defense program and again called on union members to register as volunteers under the program. Next meeting is scheduled at the Labor Temple, San Mateo, next Sunday morning.

4 Hurt, 6 Cars Wrecked, Traffic Delayed by Crash

Six cars were wrecked, four persons injured, and Sunday Bayshore Hwy. traffic was tied up for an hour Sunday when two accidents jammed the Ralston Ave. intersection at Belmont.

The injured: Annabelle Lima, 1½, San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fuchs, Palo Alto; Rosalie F. Carlotta, 17, San Jose.

The child was thrown from a vehicle driven by her father, Joseph Lima, 44, San Francisco longshoreman, when it was side-swiped by a heavy southbound tractor-trailer truck driven by William Hall, 35, Los Angeles. According to state highway patrolmen, the truck driver claimed his steering gear broke, causing him to swerve to the wrong side of the highway. After striking the Lima machine it struck a car driven by Richard Froman, 33, San Francisco, and plowed into a slough 50 feet off the highway.

Fuchs, 38, was parked at the scene of the accident at 5:45 p.m., 15 minutes later, when his car and one driven by Arthur Valley, 48, Los Angeles, were struck from the rear by a vehicle driven by Billie Gene Hall, 23, San Jose. Miss Carlotta was riding in his car. He was charged with reckless driving.

Miss Carlotta was taken home by Hall. Mr. and Mrs. Fuchs were treated at Palo Alto Hospital. The Lima girl suffered head injuries.

Conducted entirely by Chinese women, a Chinese-language fortnightly called "Women's Light" has been started in Hong Kong.

Police District Plans Rushed by Supervisors

Whether or not sharp Park will have a police district next year hinged today on its ability to get a petition to the board of supervisors in time for a public hearing scheduled in advance for Jan. 20. County Clerk W. H. Augustus warned on Tuesday morning that it must act by Jan. 20 or forego the police district for another year. The $2400 budget must be placed before the State Board of Equalization Feb. 1 to allow collection of taxes for the district in the next tax year, it was explained.

John A. Lynch, county property sales director, advised the board that actual construction on the National Motor Bearing Co. plant in Redwood City will start in two or three weeks under a 1-A priority rating for materials.

The board endorsed the Hearst newspaper "Buy a Bomber" campaign and delayed action on purchase of a loud speaking system for the board's meeting room. Supervisor Thomas L. Hickey declared he did not think the $250 item set up in the

Broadway Comedy Hit Coming to S.F.

The nation's newest comedy riot, "My Sister Eileen," which has achieved runs of more than a year in New York and eight months in Chicago, will open at Geary Theater, San Francisco, tomorrow night.

The comedy, which was adapted by two ace Hollywood scenarists, Joseph Fields and Jerome Chodorov, from the whimsical short stories by Ruth McKenney in the humor weekly, The New Yorker, opened in New York on Dec. 26, 1940, and was acclaimed by the critics for its mirth-provoking qualities.

The comedy is concerned with the adventures of Ruth and Eileen Sherwood, Columbus, O., sisters who come to New York in search of careers.

They lease an apartment in a semi-basement studio building owned by Mr. Appopposus, who boasts that his dwelling has quartered many great artists and writers in its day, and that he is the greatest of them all.

Miss McKenney's sketches have been woven into a comedy fabric as wacky as could be desired. Under the inventive direction of the noted author of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" and "You Can't Take It With You," George S. Kaufman, the work has been turned into a sort of burlesque "Street Scene," with half the action taking place in the apartment and half on the sidewalk outside.

Ruth and Eileen find their premises soon overrun with strange people—a professional football player, a romantic Owl drug clerk, an inebriated newspaper reporter, a professional humorist, the Brazilian consul and six handsome cadets of his

Both Andersen and Barreto were active in sports at Sequoia. Andersen played first-string on the Menlo Junior College football team last fall. His father served in the navy during the first World War.

DENIED ALIMONY, FEES

Request of Ruth Naomi Smith, 25, for $100 alimony, $500 attorney's fees and $25 costs from her ex-grocer husband, 65-year-old Harry E. Smith of San Mateo, was denied by Judge Maxwell McNutt in superior court Monday. The judge hinted that Mrs. Smith may have secured enough aid from her husband when she left him shortly after their marriage, preceded by a $4700 property settlement.

navy, a Cossack doorman and a trollop. Beneath it all, a new subway is being blasted.

There will be Sunday performances with the Greys, with popular matinees on Wednesday and Saturday.

SIZE, WEIGHT and VALUE

When oranges, lemons or grapefruit are advertised as "large," it's pretty hard to tell how large—so you can't tell if it's a bargain or not. Also almost everyone has had the experience of paying more for large oranges or grapefruit and then discovering that they did not give as much juice as smaller ones priced less. At Safeway the cost per orange, grapefruit or lemon is computed by weight, so that no matter what size you select—large or small—you are assured of full value for your money—and remember, every produce purchase is guaranteed to please you or all your money back.
